Mahakavi Bhai Santokh Singh Ji describes how Guru Sahib would partake in the festivities of Hola Mahalla at Sri Anandpur Sahib:

'Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji took a Pichkaari (syringe instrument used to throw colour) in their hands, seeing this all the Sikhs also took Pichkaaris. In pure devotion, the Sikhs approached Guru Sahib and bowed at their lotus charan. They all threw red colour on each other simultaneously; it was as if raindrops of different colours were falling everywhere. Throwing handfuls of colours in the air, it seemed as if the sky had taken on a new shade.'

Kavi Saina Singh Ji (the Darbari Kavi of Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji) recounts some of Guru Ji's words at the time of the first Amrit Sanchar:

'Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji said to the Sikhs, "The Saints have said that the world is like a dream! Why are you engrossed in it? Leave your love for poisonous vices and accept the Guru's teachings. This body will quickly diminish, and you shall go to the next world. O beloveds! Never cut your hair, forsake tobacco! Follow the Guru's Shabad with love. Life is a game of a few days, think and contemplate this, why waste this opportunity? Become worthy of calling yourself the Khalsa of Vaheguru and the Guru.'

Following the instructions of Guru Arjan Dev Ji, Mata Ganga Ji went to Baba Budha Ji to receive the blessing of a child. Mata Ji offered Baba Ji food with devotion. After Baba Ji had eaten the meal, there was fierce rumble of thunder and lightning. Hearing this, Baba Budha Ji gave Mata Ji the boon, "You will have a son who will roar like a lion in front of the tyrants! Your son will be the complete incarnation of Hari (Vaheguru). He will adorn various weapons upon his body. He will protect the helpless and destroy the tyrants in the battlefield."

When Guru Harkrishan Sahib Ji started to walk and was strong enough to run, Guru Ji were put under the care of Bhai Jhanda Ji to learn Gurmukhi. Over time, Guru Ji studied Gurbani Santhia and started to learn Gurmukhi Likhae (writing). Guru Ji would lovingly write Gurbani Pothis Sahibs with beautiful handwriting. Hearing Guru Ji's beautiful voice, the minds of the Sikhs would be coloured in the love of Vaheguru. With a small Siranda (stringed instrument), Guru Ji would sit sing Shabads full of Vairaag, which would enrapture the minds of the listeners.

As the Kirtan of Asa Di Vaar came to completion, Sri Guru Arjan Dev Ji said: "Budha Sahib! Open the Sri Aad Granth Sahib! Take the 'Avaaz' (Hukamnama Sahib) so that all the Panth may hear!" Baba Budha Sahib Ji then did Parkash of Sri Guru Granth Sahib Ji with complete reverence, and read the Hukamnama Sahib which was as follows:

Vaheguru has stood up to resolve the affairs of the Saints; Vaheguru has come to complete their tasks.
The land is beautiful, and the pool is beautiful; within it is contained the Ambrosial Nectar. (Ang 783)

At the end of the Hukamnama Sahib, everyone bowed their heads, recognising they had obtained Vaheguru (in the form of Gurbani), the helper of the poor.

Bansavalinama written in 1769 C.E. by Bhai Kesar Singh Ji Chibber mentions the instruction of Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji for the Khalsa to perform the Seva of Shastar during the time of Dussehra. Bhai Kesar Singh Ji writes:

'On the days of Dussehra, worship your weapons. You should recite the ballads in praise of the Shakti (power) of Vaheguru - Chandi (Chandi Charitar and Chandi Di Vaar). Worship your weapons by using lots of incense, ghee-lamps, flowers and nice fragrances made of saffron and Sandalwood. Use a Chaur Sahib (fly-whisk) to wave above your weapons.'

Guru Nanak Dev Ji's form (at the time of their Parkash) was beyond beauty and beaming with divine light. The midwife was astonished looking upon the beautiful form of Guru Ji and thought, "Children always cry once they leave their mother's womb, but this child is laughing!" In this state of amazement, she could not understand what was happening. "I have helped many children come into this world; they all cry at birth, but this child is laughing in a state of bliss." But how could this midwife of small intellect understand what was happening? She did not understand this child had felt no pain at birth like others; he was above the cycle of birth and death, the manifestation of Akaal Purakh.

The year was 1732 Bikrami (1675 C.E.) when the master of the world, Sri Guru Tegh Bahadur Ji, enacted this play. Guru Ji sacrificed their head, but not the firmness in their faith. Guru Ji upheld the highest form of righteousness. When one gharri (24 minutes) of the afternoon had passed, Guru Ji recited Sri Jap Ji Sahib. Guru Ji bowed their head at the completion of the Paath and then looked up towards the executioner. At that point; Seyad the executioner, with full force, swung his sword aiming for Guru Ji's neck, but his sword could not reach Guru Ji. Guru Ji's head separated from their body before the sword could even touch their neck.

The date was Poh Sudi Saptmi (the seventh day from the new moon in the month of Poh) in 1723 Bikrami (1665 C.E.). One and a quarter pehar of the night was left when Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji illuminated the world with their Parkash (at Takhat Sri Harmandir Ji, Sri Patna Sahib). The day was Sunday, when Guru Ji, the very light of Vaheguru took physical form. All darkness was dispelled just as the sun dispels darkness at the time of sunrise. Sri Guru Nanak Dev Ji, the physical manifestation of Akaal Purakh Parmeshar, took their tenth form as Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji.

Hearing the news of the Afghanis advancing towards Sri Darbar Sahib, Baba Ji got ready alongside 500 Singhs. Reaching Taran Taaran, a fierce battle was fought by the Khalsa and an army of 5000 Afghanis. When Baba Ji was 3 Koh (1 Koh is around 1.91 mile) away from Sri Darbar Sahib, they were beheaded by one of the enemies. Baba Ji placed their head on one palm and fought bravely with their Khanda, seeing Baba Ji the Afghanis fled in fear. Baba Ji offered their head at Sri Darbar Sahib (at this spot is now the Shaheedi Bunga of Baba Deep Singh Ji), they showed the world the power of Naam Abhiaas and the Amrit of Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji.

Guru Ji remained ever absorbed in Vaheguru, they never abandoned this tranquil state. In their lifetime Guru Sahib completed 125,000 Jap Ji Sahib Jaaps 5 times, and daily did 100 Jap Ji Sahibs for 18 years. Satguru Ji did 36 Lakh (3.6 million) Jaap of Mool Mantar, Guru Ji would always be absorbed in their Anand Saroop (blissful form). Guru Ji did countless Jaap of Vaheguru Gurmantar (all this Jaap was to inspire the Gursikhs to also absorb themselves in the recitation of Gurbani). Indeed, the Nitnem of the Satguru, only the Satguru can complete (i.e. only the Satguru performs such feats, and in turn bless their Gursikhs with the gift of Nitnem).
